Omnilab Help Desk Customer Portal / Abbott My Lab Customer Portal

Reason

The purpose of this letter is to inform you of the upcoming transition from Omnilab's Help Desk Customer Portal to the Abbott My Lab Customer portal.

Current Status

As you may already be aware, Omnilab was acquired by Abbott Laboratories in July 2015. As part of the integration of the two companies, we are pleased to announce the migration of the current Omnilab Help Desk Customer Portal to Abbott My Lab Customer Portal. The Abbott My Lab Customer Portal provides similar functionality to what you are already accustomed to with the current Omnilab Portal.

Abbott Diagnostics is also consolidating its informatics offerings under a unified brand: AlinIQ. In support of this effort, the LabOnline / AMS LabOnline product family is being re-named as AlinIQ AMS. Existing Omnilab product names have been changed in the Abbott My Lab Customer Portal to reflect their new AlinIQ AMS names. Detailed information on these changes are provided for you in the appendices to this letter.

Action

The Omnilab Help Desk Customer Portal will no longer be available from March 14, 2016. Users of current Omnilab Portal will be redirected to the Abbott My Lab Customer Portal from March 14, 2016 onwards.

Please register on the Abbott My Lab Customer Portal on www.abbottdiagnostics.com beginning on this date to ensure smooth transition for your laboratory. Details on how to register are provided in the appendices to this letter.

You should use the Abbott My Lab Customer Portal to submit incidents on and after March 14, 2016.

You will need your unique instrument serial identifier to complete registration. This will be provided to you in a separate email from Abbott Diagnostics.

Contact

Abbott is committed to providing you with the highest quality diagnostic products and support services to meet the needs of your laboratory and the providers and patients you serve.

If you or any of the health care providers you serve have any questions regarding this information, please contact your local area Customer Service.

Frequently Asked Questions

Note:

- Frequently Asked Questions are also available at the following link:
- www.abbottdiagnostics.com/en-int/AboutUs/contact.html#frequently-asked-questions

About AliniQ:

1. What is AliniQ?
 - Abbott Diagnostics AliniQ portfolio includes a range of professional services and informatics enablers that drive operational productivity for our customers.
2. What is AliniQ AMS?
 - AliniQ AMS includes middleware informatics software and professional services designed to harmonize data and help deliver improved laboratory quality and operational efficiency. AliniQ AMS is also known as LabONline or AMS LabOnline.
3. What are the components of AliniQ AMS?
 - Please refer to Appendix H

About Other Products:

1. What other Omnilab products are included under this incident reporting process in addition to AliniQ AMS?
 - All products previously provided by Omnilab are included under this incident reporting process. These products may have been provided to you directly by Omnilab or through another vendor. This includes the following products
 - i. Analyzer Viewer
 - ii. URILAB
 - iii. LabOnlineLINK
 - iv. BestOnline
 - v. BC ROBO Interface

Current Omnilab Customers:

1. I am currently a user of Omnilab products, what changes should I expect?
 - Abbott acquired Omnilab in July, 2015. We are making a number of changes around how support requests are initiated and tracked. Our goal is to provide our customers with a more streamlined and unified support structure using Abbott global systems. The following are the key changes that are taking place:
 - i. The LabOnline / AMS LabOnline product family is being re-named and consolidated under AliniQ AMS
 - ii. The Omnilab Customer portal is being discontinued and functionality is being transferred to Abbott Diagnostics My Lab Accounts
2. What are the new names for the Omnilab products?
 - Please refer to Appendix G
3. I am not seeing my Omnilab products in the Abbott My Lab Customer Portal? or Why am I seeing new AliniQ AMS related products in the My Instruments page of my Abbott My Lab Account? or What are the new AliniQ AMS products I am seeing in the My Instruments page of Abbott My Lab Account?
 - As part of the integration of Omnilab into Abbott, all LabOnline / AMS LabOnline related products are being re-mapped under a single AliniQ AMS heading. If you have any LabOnline / AMS LabOnline related products, they will now be shown under a new AliniQ AMS name. Please refer to the table in Appendix G to determine the new name.

Registration:

1. How do I register for Abbott My Lab Customer Portal?
 - Please refer to Appendix B

Submitting incidents and errors:

1. Why are my Omnilab products not listed in my profile?
 - Please refer to Appendix G
2. Why am I getting the "Submission Error" message when I try to submit a ticket?
 - Occasionally due to technical or connectivity issues, users may see this error. Please retry after some time, if problem persists please "Contact Us" and choose "My Lab Customer Portal"
3. Why am I getting the "Duplicate Ticket" message when I try to submit a ticket?
 - Duplicate ticket error is shown when the same Incident Type is tried to be submitted for the same instrument within 24 hours
4. Why do I get "Authorization Required" error during submitting an incident?
 - For users to be able to submit a ticket for an instrument, they need to be listed as a Contact for the instrument.
 - i. If you are already listed as a Contact, please check your email to see if it matches
 - Please use Contact Us and the category AlinIQ AMS Incident Reporting to add yourself as a contact, alternatively you can also contact the Service representative to add your email
5. How do I submit an incident ticket? or What are these Incident Type categories we see during submitting the ticket?
 - Please refer to Appendix D
6. How do I submit non-service related requests such as product inquiry, product enhancement, request documentation etc.?
 - Please refer to Appendix E
7. Why can't I submit an incident report for other Abbott products?
 - Currently, customers can only submit incident reports for AlinIQ AMS and other Omnilab products. Submission of incident reports for other Abbott Diagnostic products should continue to follow existing processes
8. What are serial numbers? Or
Where do I find my serial numbers?
 - Each AlinIQ AMS component is associated with a unique serial number. As part of the transition to the Abbott My Lab Account, unique serial numbers have been assigned to your products. You will be notified separately by Abbott regarding your unique serial numbers. If you have not received these numbers by March 14, 2016 please contact your Abbott representative for further assistance.

Ticket notification related:

1. What happens after I submit a ticket?
 - Once a user submits a ticket through the portal, the user chosen as Point of Contact receives the service ticket number created
 - The service ticket is assigned to the appropriate Abbott representative
 - The Abbott representative troubleshoots and can follow-up with the customer as required
 - Once the ticket is resolved and is closed, the Point of Contact is notified of the ticket closure
2. How will I be notified of the updates, after I submit a ticket?
 - Once a user submits a ticket through the portal, the submitter receives the service ticket and confirmation email
 - During the troubleshooting, the Abbott representative may also get in touch with the Point of Contact chosen for updates
 - Once the ticket is closed, the Point of Contact will be notified of the ticket closure

General / Portal related:

1. What languages are supported in the portal?
 - The following languages are supported, Croatian, Czech, Danish, French, German, Greek, Hungarian, Italian, Korean, Norwegian, Polish, Portuguese – Brazil, Portuguese, Russian, Serbian, Slovak, Spanish, Swedish, Thai, Turkish and Vietnamese
2. How do I change the language?
 - To change your language, Log In to the Abbott My Lab Customer Portal, select "My Profile", select "Language Preference" and "Save Changes"
3. How do I submit non-incident requests such as product enhancements or documentation requests?
 - Select "Contact Us" and chose Inquire Type as "AlinIQ AMS Incident Reporting" to submit your request
4. What is the time-out interval for the portal?
 - The inactivity or time-out is set at 20 minutes
5. When I try to submit an incident, the portal takes me to the Log In page?
 - If there has been no activity on the page for the time-out interval, the portal will take the user back to the Log In page when a form submission is attempted.
